Message

Member-based Thrift and Credit Societies encourage thrift among the members and help address their economic problems. They help to meet credit needs of members who might otherwise fall prey to loan sharks and other predatory lenders. Unlike banking institutions their ultimate goal is to mobilize savings and administer credit to members.

I am pleased to learn that Government of India Secretariat Co-operative Thrift & Credit Society Limited has been rendering yeoman service to its members for over 100 years. Now by modernizing and computerizing its system of accounting thereby facilitating web based access to members to their accounts, I am sure its services will be still more facilitative. I wish the Society many more years of purposeful service to its members.
